Group Ponders OCD Recommendations

Enlargement of space in the control center in the city hall and extended C. D. telephone service—two recommendations to Daly City's Civilian Defense Council by federal OCD representatives—were discussed by the council when they met, last Thursday night.

The OCD recommendations were made in Daly City early this month when a twelve man inspection team observed local defense preparations during an air raid drill. The team was made up of federal defense authorities, and it was headed by Larry Price, Veterans' representative in the Regional Office of Civilian Defense.

The local council was told by the OCD group that a larger control center was needed in Daly City. Arthur J. Bodien, director of the local council, announced that the probable action will be to move a wall partition back. The partition divides two sections of the city hall's basement floor, where the control center is located. The council favored this arrangement rather than moving quarters to another location, according to Bodien.

O. M. Harris, representative of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, was present at the meeting, Thursday, to discuss extended "starring" of telephones or preferential service. Although the OCD demanded that more telephones of sector heads be "starred", it appeared unlikely that any more phones will be given preferential service here in view of the large number of vital telephones already "starred" in the San Francisco exchange. Daly City has fifty telephones for key civilian defense officers "starred" for preferential service during an emergency.

Another change in control center routine which may be made is dispatch of fire department calls. Rather than have the telephone girl in the control center dispatch fire calls during an emergency, the

Police Arrest Three For Disturbing Peace

Miss Bernice Scaruffi and Arthur Armour, both of San Francisco, will appear in Daly City court, tomorrow at 3:30 p. m. to answer charges of disturbing the peace. The pair, with Aldon Kennan, U. S. N., were arrested by Daly City police, early Saturday morning.

The three had been drinking and were quarrelsome, according to police. Officers Joe Kusber and Roland A. Petrocchi arrested them when attempts to quiet them failed. Miss Scaruffi and Armour were released on $10 bail. The sailor was released without bail since his permit expired, Sunday, on which day he had to report in San Diego.

To Open Deputy Rationing Board

Plans for a deputy rationing board for this community are now under way, and the office in Daly City will be set up in time to handle applications for supplemental gasoline rationing books, according to War Price and Rationing Board No. 31-4.

No opening date has yet been set for the local office, nor has a location here been selected. One suggestion, however, was the old Jefferson school building in Colma.

The three Daly City members of War Price and Rationing Board No. 31-4 will be in charge of the deputy office here. They are: Claude Cattori, Mrs. J. A. Ledterman, and Charles Suenderman. However, the deputy officer will

Capps Brothers Train For Active Duty With U. S. Air Forces

Uncle Sam can cash in on a "daily double" within another eight or nine months when a pair of Daly City brothers are awarded their wings and go into active duty as pilots for the Army Air Forces.

Now training for active service are Walter Howard Capps Jr., and his brother Robert S. "Bob" Capps, both well known in Daly City. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Capps, 345 Winchester street.

Howard, eldest of the two, is being schooled at Santa Ana air base, California. Making a fine record in his entrance examinations, Howard was given his choice between training for a pilot or a bombardier. He had already seen a year of military service in the Army, before he decided to train for air duty.

Bob began his preflight training course in September at Maxwell field near Montgomery, Alabama. The course is a preliminary before Better Memorize This Address Now!

The San Mateo county chapter, American Red Cross, this week, issued a reminder to all persons living in Daly City to acquaint themselves with the nearest Red Cross disaster relief center.

In case of an air raid or other disaster, after the all clear has been sounded, those in need of food, clothing, or shelter, and those wishing to locate missing members of their families should go at once to the relief center nearest their homes, Red Cross officials said.

The two centers in Daly City are General Pershing school, Han-

Smith Gets Medal

News dispatches from Cairo, last week, revealed that Sergeant J. D. "Jack" Smith, Daly City, had been awarded the Silver Star for extraordinary bravery in the Egyptian battle area. With 81 other officers and enlisted men he was decorated, recently, by Major General Frank M. Andrews, who heads the U. S. Air Forces in the Middle East.

This is the second time in the past few months that Smith has displayed unusual bravery. In August, Sergeant Smith saved many lives when a four engine bomber crashed into an airdrome, spreading treacherous flames and exploding ammunition. For his courageous action in carrying the injured to safety he was presented with the Soldier's Medal.

The Daly City war hero, who was graduated from Jefferson Union high school in 1939, is the son of Mrs. Mary Petiti, 474 Bellevue avenue. His mother heard of his latest feat over the radio, and read of it in the press. As yet, she has had no direct word from her son.

There's Nothing Exclusive About This "Four Hundred"

Two hundred and fifty motorists have been cited to appear in Daly City municipal court, tomorrow at 3:30 p. m., to answer charges of violating Daly City's new dim-out ordinance.

Little more than a week after the ordinance was passed by the city council, the Daly City Police department had issued tags to nearly 400 motorists who failed to dim their lights in Daly City's zone of restricted lighting. Two hundred and fifty of these will be fined tomorrow, and 125 more, so far, are scheduled to appear, Friday, November 27.

"We haven't yet had a chance to see if the violations are decreasing any," Police Chief James G. Reardon said Tuesday. "We issued 125 tags on Saturday and Sunday nights alone to motorists violating the dimout ordinance."

The police department has increased its patrol from dusk each night until traffic thins out enough for regular night officers to take control. Auxiliary officers have

Schools Begin Gas Sign-Up

Expect 4,000 Car Owners To Apply

Faced with the tremendous wartime job of issuing mileage rationing books to over four thousand motorists in Daly City, three grammar schools in the Jefferson district began, yesterday, to register vehicles for rationing and issue basic "A" and "D" books and windshield stickers. The basic books, "A" issued for automobiles, and "D" for motorcycles, allows 240 miles of travel per month for each vehicle.

Postponed twice before, the registration, which finally got under way, yesterday morning, will continue all day today and tomorrow. The three schools in Daly City where basic books are being issued are as follows: Woodrow Wilson primary, 43 Miriam street; Jefferson elementary, 14 Alemany street; and Crocker elementary, 649 Bellevue avenue. R. L. Crane Jr., superintendent of schools, in charge of local sign-up, asked each motorist to register at the school closest to his home. Hours when books are being issued are from 8:30 a. m. to 7:30 p. m. on each registration day. Forty-four grammar school teachers, assisted by thirty Daly City volunteers, are handling the registration here. All schools are closed during the sign-up.

Information that actual rationing of gasoline will begin, December 1, was confirmed by Mrs. C. F. Day, executive secretary of War Price and Rationing board No. 31-4, covering Daly City. Mrs. Day further announced that "B" and "C" books, affording the motorist additional gasoline will NOT be issued at the schools, but application to the local rationing board, 473 Grand avenue, South San Francisco, must be made for them.

Another important announcement was made by the rationing board, this week, informing farmers in the Daly City-Colma area that they will not be required to make application for their farm

Doors will be opened again, Monday, November 30, for regular school sessions.

It's Children's Book Week At Daly City Library

Nobody could visit the children's room at Daly City public library, 6351 Mission street, this week, without wanting to read just dozens of books! For its participation in National Children's Book Week, November 15-21, the local library has turned the youngsters' reading room into a gay treasure chest for its dozens of new books. Happy "book people" border the room (see two small inserts at top of picture above). Black faces grinning, they look down upon tables on which are attractively displayed brightly bound books for many ages and interests. Flowers, posters and miniature figurines add to the success of the display.

Mrs. Jean O'Rourke, librarian, announces some of the new titles awaiting young readers: "Dynamo Farm," "Gabriel Churchkitten," "Juarez, Hero of Mexico," "The Jumbo Sambo," "Penny and the White Horse," "Sky Freighter," "Puff Ball," "Dash and Dart," "Bells and Grass," "Mr. Bumps and His Monkey," "Fun for Boys and Girls," "The Courage and the Glory," "The Doll Who Came Alive," "Pictures to Grow Up With," "Adam of the Road," "Bread and Butter," "Peter Piper's Pickled Peppers," "The Elephant's Child," "Zic-Zac," "Against All Odds," "Fruits of the Earth," "Inside Out," "Look at America," "Zickle's Puppy Dog," "Jamba, the Elephant."

Gay Comedy Opens At Local Theatre

What happens to a delightfully irresponsible Manhattan heiress when she goes broke and discovers the extravagant life she has led has completely unfitted her to cope with life's normal problems—including love?

Gregory La Cava has used this premise for his gay Universal comedy, "Lady in a Jam," starring Irene Dunne, which is now showing at the Daly City theatre.

Patric Knowles, Ralph Bellamy, Eugene Pallette, Queenie Vassar and Samuel S. Hinds head the supporting cast of players. The comedy is heralded by critics as an able successor to La Cava's own hilarious "My Man Godfrey."

Miss Dunne is the delightfully daft heiress in "Lady in a Jam" who goes broke, goes West to Arizona to work an abandoned gold mine in a ghost town. She finds that life in the raw is astonishingly different and far more exciting from a romantic standpoint.

Patric Knowles is a sober psychiatrist striving to straighten the pleasant kinks out of Miss Dunne's pretty head. Ralph Bellamy appears as a show-off cowboy of the wide open spaces equally as daft as the New York heiress.

How La Cava handles the love affair of the trio is reminiscent of his memorable comedy, "My Man Godfrey." While the story might have been told from a serious angle, La Cava chose the comedic element because of the intrinsic humor in the situation.

tle the Jeffs on even terms. Both teams have been able to win only one PAL game apiece, and the two victories were both scored over the same rival, Burlingame high school. Crippled by injuries this season, the Jeffs will finish a campaign of tough luck, tomorrow, in their last game.

The 13 to 0 loss to South San Francisco's champion Warriors on the Jefferson gridiron, Armistice day, was the hardest defeat for Jefferson to take. A passing combination, "Blacky" Bernard to Angeli, spelled disaster for the Jeffs and clinched the PAL championship for South City in the holiday encounter.

With Tulio Picchi and Matt Borg alternating in the Indian running attack, the Jeffs nearly upset the strong Warrior outfit. They outgained South City from running plays 102 yards to 78 yards. The Jeffs made eight first downs to South City's five. But it was Bernard's passes to a sticky fingered Angeli that decided the game.

"We had two pass defenders on Angeli each time, and he still caught them," Jefferson's Coach Glenn South said.

"Our line played the best game they have shown all season," Coach South continued, "and if Jack Faulk ever played all conference ball, it was against South City."

Faulk was a bulwark of strength in the Jeff line, smearing many South City running plays and doing an excellent offensive job.

IRENE DUNNE appears as a flighty New York heiress in Gregory La Cava's Universal comedy production, "Lady in a Jam." Patric Knowles, Ralph Bellamy, Eugene Pallette, Queenie Vassar and Samuel S. Hinds are in the supporting cast.

John J. Fahey Sr. Resumes Office Duties

John J. Fahey sr., member of the city council and local realtor, resumed his duties at his office, 3 Wellington avenue, Friday, after recovering from illness.

Fahey was confined to the hospital for several days with an arthritis ailment.

SEND OUT SOS FOR WASTE FATS

The need for waste fats to make explosives for our fighting forces in the Solomons, in Egypt, and on all Allied battlefronts, has grown so critical that the War Production Board sends an SOS to every housewife in Daly City, asking them to "increase their fat collections to the maximum amount possible."

The lives of American soldiers, sailors and Marines depend upon the speedy response to this SOS. Daly City's Salvage committee declared this week. Take your collection to your butcher.

At the start of the drive, Daly City, like all other communities in America, was indifferent to the campaign. The WPB admits that the collection of waste fats and greases over the entire nation was "spotty". But the fault has been remedied here by both the Daly City salvage committee and the national WPB. R. L. Crane jr., chairman of the local committee, announced a change of policy several weeks ago, whereby housewives are paid four cents a pound for waste fats.

This plan, having shown better results than the "donation" method in Daly City, is also expected to be aided by the recent OPA amendment calling for the shipping and collection costs to be added to the ceiling price paid the butcher for waste fat. More interest from the butcher will naturally be the result of this order, although Daly City meat dealers have already shown fine co-operation in collecting the waste fats.

fire department control board representative, usually Captain A. L. Sundstrom, may dispatch calls direct. This possibility arises primarily because each company firehouse is now equipped with a telephone and can be reached through the PBX board in the Daly City Police department. Another reason is that Captain Sundstrom is familiar with calls to the firehouse on the receiving end.

Peter J. Becker, member of Daly City Post No. 410, American Legion, was named as the Civilian Defense Council's radio communications officer. Becker is an amateur radio operator and operator of the "walkie-talkie" (radio communication) in this area for the Legion. Becker will merge his duties in the Legion's disaster relief committee with the local civilian defense organization.

No meeting of the Civilian Defense Council will be held, tonight, as a majority of the council will be in attendance at the meeting of the Peninsula division of the League of California Cities.

The office in Daly City will be opened, primarily, to afford Daly City and Colma applicants a chance to deliver applications and see board members without making a trip to South San Francisco. However, applications for "B" and "C" ration books for gasoline may be mailed in, the board pointed out. Address of the board is 473 Grande avenue, South San Francisco. The Daly City office will probably be open two days a week.

LEGION AUXILIARY HEARS MRS. BAIR

Mrs. Meredith Bair, War Activities chairman of the American Legion auxiliary in the State of California was distinguished guest at the meeting of the Twenty-Sixth district held in Menlo Park, last Friday evening. Mrs. Eugene Signarowitz presided. Mrs. Bair gave an interesting and inspiring talk regarding her program.

Excellent reports were given by various district chairmen. Mrs. J. P. Cameros, membership chairman, stated a new membership record has been established by the American Legion auxiliary. The largest membership in the history of the organization was attained, when records reflected a membership of 535,226 members for the calendar year of 1942. Mrs. Cam-eros was proud to announce that District 26 again holds first place in the state for next year's membership having attained 70 per cent of the quota.

Another highlight of the evening was the splendid, comprehensive report of National convention given by Mrs. T. Louis Chess, past department president.

AT JEFFERSON

As families continue to migrate to California to engage in war industries, new names are added to rolls of Jefferson. Most recent are the following.

Delmore Jenkins, third grade, Omaha, Nebraska; John Patton, third grade, New York City, New York; Jerry McMillen, fourth grade, Springfield, Missouri; Marjorie Mattes, fourth grade, Colorado; Rufus Dickey, fifth grade, Arkansas; Norma Fizzato, sixth grade, Chicago, Illinois.

Joyce Lombardo transferred to Jefferson kindergarten from San Francisco. Pauline and Paul Troche, seventh grade and Diane Troche, second grade, former pupils of Jefferson, have returned from Morgan Hill where they have been picking fruit since last summer.

Classes throughout the school are vying with each other in their efforts to aid the war industries through salvage. Seventh graders are sponsors of a "Bottle Cap Collection." They provide the containers and the pep talks and they and the rest of the school provide thousands of bottle caps. In like manner the third grade promotes the collection of empty metal cartridge shells. These, too, are coming in great quantities. Tin cans, of course, continue to be a weekly collection in charge of the sixth grade. Purchase of War Stamps and Bonds is a weekly source of school pride. This week the second grade had the highest percentage of purchasers and also the largest total. One of Jefferson's teachers designed a clever Victory banner showing in percentages the weekly contribution of each class to the nation-wide stamp and bond drive. The banner remains in the classroom having the highest percentage of the week.

Colma Postmaster Urges Early Christmas Mailing

The Post Office department now is starting the most gigantic task in its history—the movement of a deluge of Christmas parcels, cards and letters while maintaining the regular flow of millions of pieces of mail daily to and from the armed forces all over the world, according to Postmaster Frank Micheletti, Colma branch.

Indications are that the volume of Christmas mail will be the largest on record. Already in September, latest month for which figures are available, retail sales had reached a level second only to the record month of December, 1941, according to the Department of Commerce. And sales are rising. Such heavy purchases always presage heavy mailings, the postmaster general's office in Washington, D. C., pointed out.

If thousands of soldiers, sailors, marines and civilian friends are not to be disappointed at Christmas time, the public must cooperate by mailing earlier than ever before and by addressing letters and parcels properly.

The deadline already is past for mailing gifts to Army and Navy personnel overseas with assurance that the parcels will arrive by Christmas.

The Post Office department is making strenuous efforts to avoid such a terrific jam as it faced in 1918 under similar conditions, during the First World War. It can succeed in those efforts—and avoid many heartaches for its patrons—if the public will cooperate by mailing early.

Local P. G. & E. Office Displays Service Flag

The Pacific Gas and Electric company's local office, 12 Wellington avenue, is displaying proudly its service flag in honor of the company's employees who are now in the country's armed service. Report on November 5 shows a total enrollment in the various military branches of 1,558 men, or more than 11 per cent of the total P. G. and E. personnel.

More men are being called to the service every day, according to P. M. Downing, vice-president and general manager. Several thousand who would be subject to the draft have been given occupational deferment, as the maintenance of adequate gas and electric supply is essential to production of ships, oil, gasoline, food supplies and other war necessities.

Nearly 5,000 P. G. and E. workers, both men and women, are signed up in various Civilian Defense activities.

"TRAVELING BILLBOARDS" Recruit for Navy

The picture above shows Doreen Williams about to christen the first of five, streamlined Greyhound Supercoaches which will travel Northern California highways to carry the message "fly for Navy," to young highschool graduates, 18 to 26. The slogan is displayed on both sides of each bus in huge letters, with the address of the San Francisco recruiting office also shown. The naval officer in the picture is Lt. Comdr. E. H. Walters, who accepted the "traveling billboards" from F. W. Ackerman, vice president of Pacific Greyhound Lines. All five buses carrying the recruiting slogan are in service on regular Greyhound runs.

OBITUARIES

Eugene Bonillas Jr.

Eugene Bonillas jr., 2-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bonillas, 60 Parkview avenue, died, November 10, at an Oakland hospital.

Funeral services were held, Thursday, November 12, from a South San Francisco mortuary, with interment in Holy Cross cemetery, Colma.

Judge Johnson

Funeral services were held, recently, in Hollister, California, for Judge Ellis C. Johnson, who is remembered by many pioneer families of Daly City. Judge Johnson was a figure in Daly City's history, having been this community's first city judge, and justice of peace in the first township of San Mateo county.

He was sworn into office as city judge in 1911 when Daly City first was incorporated. Simultaneously, Judge Johnson was elected to the county office and held the two offices in this community over a period of 25 years. He retired in 1936, after seeing Daly City's growth from its beginning as a town of 500 inhabitants.

Judge Johnson was 82 years old at the time of his death. He had been a resident of California since 1880, coming here from Niagara Falls, New York.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Josephine T. Johnson.

Saiz Reports On Conference

The conference of education and industry, sponsored jointly by the California Teachers association and the Pacific Coast office of the National Association of Manufacturers at the Athens club, Oakland, Friday, was a huge success, according to Clive M. Saiz, representative for the north end of San Mateo county.

Discussion groups of about 25 met from 4-6 p. m. and considered four related topics: youth in industry, student work program, women in industry, and personnel. Summaries of the discussions were given at the dinner which followed.

Sir Ernest Simon, Manchester university, England, spoke briefly at the close of the conference.

Leading industrialists from the bay area were in attendance, including the presidents of several of the largest firms.

We ask this question because more than two out of five of all calls made to "Information" each day are for numbers which are listed in the telephone directory.

These calls occupy the time of hundreds of trained operators at Information switchboards up and down the Pacific Coast. They tie up much vital equipment in these times when our lines are carrying urgent messages for the armed forces ... for war industries ... for defense authorities.

America needs men who can STAY on the job. 90% of lost time in war work industries is due to sickness—not accidents. This work loss will reach a high peak this winter unless all workers strictly adhere to the rules of health.

Look at these figures! In 1941 illness caused a loss of 100 million man-days of work. Upset stomachs were responsible for the loss of 25 million man-days. The common cold caused a loss of 45 million man-days. Eye strain and ailments caused a loss of 35 million man-days.

Take care of yourself OFF the job—at home as well as on the job. Plan and eat nutritionally balanced meals for body strength and energy. Keep your home heated at healthful temperature, neither stuffy hot or goose-pimplily chilly. When you use your eyes give them adequate light for restful, comfortable seeing.

Conserve your health. Do your part in the National Health Protection Program this winter.

ASSURE MIGRANTS GAS

equipment as long as it does not operate on a public road.

Before going to the schools, the motorist must get an application blank from a service station or rationing board and fill it out. The applicant is required to fill in his name, address, vehicle license number, state where registered, year model, make, and body type. For the benefit of those whose vehicles are registered in California, all this information can be obtained from the registration card or "white slip." Applicants will also be required to fill in the serial numbers of the five tires on the car. These numbers can be found on each tire, but are not to be confused with the size of the tire, also numerical.

No vehicle can have more than five tires. If the motorist has more, he must sell any excess. The federal government is paying ceiling prices for these tires, and they will be picked up by the Railway Express company.

When the applicant goes to the schools to register, he must have with him the filled application blank, the registration card or "white slip," and the serial numbers of the five tires. At the school, he will be given his "A" or basic coupon book and windshield sticker, and the registrar will detach part of the application blank and return it. The motorist must keep this part, which is a tire inspection record. It must be submitted to the tire inspector when the tires are periodically checked.

The basic coupon books carry coupons for the next 32 weeks, beginning at the time rationing goes into effect. Service stations are instructed by the OPA NOT to honor any coupons which have been detached.

If, when the motorist registers at the schools, he feels he is entitled to more gasoline than is allowed by the basic books (approximately four gallons), he may ask the registrar for an application for a supplemental mileage rationing book. However, he will NOT receive the supplemental book at the schools. Application for this must be presented to the War Price and Rationing board only, and it will not be issued unless it is approved by the board. Supplemental books are known as

Respective alternate relief centers to the above are Crocker school, Bellevue avenue between Roosevelt and Evergreen avenues; and Woodrow Wilson primary school, Miriam street between Vista Grande and Knowles avenues.

All centers are ready to function in case of a disaster. The San Mateo county chapter, American Red Cross announced that food and clothing will be furnished to disaster sufferers if it is needed. Also, sufferers will be registered at the centers as they are admitted, and information regarding lost members of families will be obtained at the centers and given out to other family members.

Names of the persons in charge of these centers will be announced later, according to R. L. Crane jr., shelter procurement manager of the local Red Cross disaster relief committee.

"B" books and "C" books.

"B" books are issued to only applicants who meet car-sharing requirements and whose occupational mileage exceeds 150 miles per month. The car-sharing requirements mean that the applicant must carry at least three persons with him to and from work "B" books enable the vehicle to travel 560 miles per month.

Applicants for "C" books, before they are approved, must prove that their occupational use of the automobile is directly essential in war work. This book is even higher rated than the "B" book.

All approved applications for supplemental mileage will be returned within ten days.

Opera Association To Present Ballet, Lehmann Next

The next two attractions on the schedule of the San Francisco Opera association are the world famous Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo and Lotte Lehmann, renowned prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera company.

Miss Lehmann comes to the Curran theatre, Sunday afternoon, as the second in the Curran Sunday afternoon attractions. Always one of the great favorites of the song-loving public, she has chosen an excellent program of the best of her very large repertoire.

The Ballet Russe, opening tonight at the opera house, will present a total of eight performances, including a Sunday afternoon matinee, November 22. The season closes Wednesday night, November 25.

Three outstanding new numbers that New York's critics have hailed as the season's "Smash hits" are: Agnes de Mille's "Rodeo", or "The Courting of Burnt Ranch", with music by Aaron Copeland, an All-American number, "The Snow Maiden" and "Chopin's Concerto", both the work of the famous Bronislava Nijinska, a new choreographer in the ranks of the Ballet Russe.

Tickets are now on sale for both these attractions at Sherman Clay box office, EXbrook 8585.

Red Cross Urges Use Of V-Mail To Men Overseas

Recognizing the large part frequent letters and messages from home and friends play in upholding morale of the armed forces, the United States government has asked the American Red Cross to urge the wide use of V-Mail and Expeditionary Forces Messages between civilians in this country and men overseas.

The announcement was made today by Mrs. Barney Bristow, home service chairman for the San Mateo County chapter, American Red Cross, who emphasized that use of V-Mail for letters not only conserves all possible space for war shipping, but also offers the most rapid form of personal mail service. In handling and dispatch, it is given priority over all other classes of personal mail.

V-Mail forms are obtainable at local post offices free of charge. Messages written on the prepared forms are micro-filmed for shipping, thus consuming but a fraction of the space ordinarily needed for regular mail sacks.

To persons sending letters via V-Mail, the Red Cross official stressed that the name and address of the person to whom the letter is being written should be shown in the panel at the top of the message side of the sheet. The information in the panel is photographed, as well as the message, and when reproduced at destination must serve as the address for the message. The post office department has announced that henceforth, unless the name and address of the addressee are shown in that way letters will be returned to senders.

The Country Could Use More Like Him

The other day he was chief of the Office of War Information's press branch in the nation's capital. Today he's a private, going through boot-camp training at Parris island, South Carolina.

So runs the story of a California newspaperman, Paul C. Smith, on leave from his post as editor and general manager of a San Francisco paper, who voluntarily relinquished an $8000 a year job in the Office of War Information and gave up a Naval Lieutenant Commander's commission in order to learn how to use a bayonet in the Marines—one of the toughest assignments any newspaperman could ask for.

Too few and far between have been the instances of men in lucrative non-combatant war posts who, scorning all considerations of income, safety or prestige, have chosen to do their war work with rifle and bayonet in the blazing battlefronts of the war zones.

A fine-toothed comb applied to the vast group of desk war workers in Washington, D. C., might well turn up enough manpower for several battalions who, in combat, could render the country a greater service with a machine gun than a typewriter. Private Smith's action, we trust, will be a reminder to able-bodied young seat-warmers, clinging uneasily to deferred status, that "they also serve" who go forth to fight.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

FEW exploits of the war have captured the imagination as have those of the American Volunteer Group—the aviators who, in Rangoon, inflicted the first air defeat the Japanese had suffered in nine years, and who for weeks managed to outwit and outfight the far greater force of the Japanese.

BRIGADIER-GENERAL
CLAIRE CHENNAULT

"The Flying Tigers," by Russell Whelan, tells the dramatic story of these boys. At no time did the A.V.G. have more than fifty-five combat planes capable of flight, or more than seventy pilots trained to fly them. They were first stationed in Toungoo, Burma, and, under the leadership of Captain Claire Chennault, formerly of the U. S. Army Air Force, went through as severe a course of training as air history has known. They first went into action December 18th, eleven days after Pearl Harbor.

From that date to July 4, the A.V.G.'s were credited officially with the destruction of 286 Japanese airplanes, and there were, by conservative estimate, probably 300 more that fell in jungles, mountains and surrounding waters, whose destruction could not be proved. Approximately 1,500 Japanese airmen lost their lives in encounters with them. Against these figures, the Group lost eight men killed in action, three on the ground as the result of bombings, and four missing in action. Again and again the Tokyo radio announced, with wishful thinking, that the Japanese "had completely destroyed the thousands of A.V.G. fliers."

The boys were written up in their hometown newspapers, of course, and occasionally, when mail got through, they had a chance to see what was said of them. Once, however, one of them made the mistake of flaunting his home paper editorial which acclaimed him, "our shining knight of the air, Fighting Billy ———." For weeks thereafter Bill endured from his comrades such remarks as, "Will the shining knight of the air please pass the bears?"

Mr. Whelan tells us what these men were like and what they did, how they were hero-worshipped by the Chinese people, and how they scandalized the elite Rangoon society by dancing at the country club in their work boots and open shirts. Though to most people they were known as "The Flying Tigers," Madame Chiang Kai-Shek had another name for them. She called them, "My angels, with or without wings."

Book-of-the-Month Club is offering a double selection for December—"We Took to the Woods," by Louise Dickinson Rich, a true story about a woman who licked hard times in the city by bringing up her family in the Maine woods, and "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," by Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough, which deals with the authors' sojourn in Paris in the days when that city was still gay and free.

Among the interesting personalities of whom Professor Russell Blankenship tells in his book about the early days of the Northwest, "And There Were Men," is one Hank Vaughan, born in 1847. Although Hank had an amazing career in horse-thieving and man-killing, in appearance he was a small inoffensive-looking man with quiet manners and a gift of pleasant conversation. But he was highly sensitive to remarks about his character and business. Once the editor of a local Oregon paper printed a news item which informed readers, "Hank Vaughan, the gambler, is dead." The notice was inaccurate in two respects. Hank was known for many accomplishments, but gambling wasn't among them. Also, he wasn't dead. By way of correcting the misstatements, he rode to the newspaper office waving a gun, and sent editors, reporters and printers skipping into the street.

Bank of America Workers Get Bonus

More than 9,000 staff members of the Bank of America in all parts of California will again share in a bonus, to aggregate approximately $600,000.

The bonus was voted, Tuesday, by the bank's board of directors upon recommendation of President L. M. Giannini, who reported that staff teamwork throughout the year had made it possible for the bank to meet the abnormal problems created by war conditions and the enlistment in the armed forces of 2285 experienced employees.

This payment will bring the total bonus to the staff during the year to almost $1,250,000 or approximately 90 per cent of a month's salary for the average employee.

Report 146 Births

During October the Stork far out-raced both Dan Cupid and the Grim Reaper, according to statistics released, this week, by T. C. Rice, county recorder.

Who, What, How At Jefferson Union High School

BOOK WEEK

Since this is Book Week, Miss Ethel Fillmore, school librarian, has arranged a special display of new books for the library . . . small books, big books, thin books, and fat books . . . books that will interest everyone. These new editions, which have just recently arrived, are arranged into six groups for the convenience of the students. The various classifications are fiction, non-fiction, photography, lives of service men, how to do things, and biographies.

LIEUTENANTS NOW
Recently commissioned as second lieutenants in the U. S. Army are Arthur and Edgar Smith, popular high school instructors, who joined the army this summer. The brothers are at present stationed at Lowry Field, Denver.

SPORTS

Last week, 14 girls in the G. P. A. L. journeyed to South City for a hockey game with South City high. The girls, accompanied by gym instructors, Miss Ella Redkey and Miss Claire Nace, put up a tough battle, but lost 3-1. Those making the trip were Sophia Sikeotis, Georgette O'Brien, Victoria Filios, Kathleen and Dorothy Dawe, Lorelei Gamba, Mary and Beatrice Seidel, Jennie Morini, Betty Rocha, Frances Oxley, Norma Borelli, Carmela Blandini, and Augusta Cattaneo. After the game, light refreshments were served.

As a result of the bloody battle between the Jeff Indians and Boilermakers of South City, Armistice day, the coveted plaque, which by tradition goes to the winner of the football game, will be presented to the captain of the South City squad by one of Jeff's players at a formal ceremony in the near future.

ASSEMBLIES

Exchange assemblies were given, last week, by Jefferson and South San Francisco high. An array of talent from Jeff put in its appearance first at South City, after which a delegation of entertainers from that school came to Jeff.

Jennie Giusti, Indian yell leader, started things off with a bang at South City, by leading the student body in a series of yells. The band gave a splendid performance. Highlight of the entire program was when Fred Waterman sang "Der Fuehrer's Face." He brought down the house with his version of the song.

Miss Irene Twesten To Be Married Soon

Miss Irene Twesten, popular local girl, well known to a large majority of Daly City residents, will be married, Saturday, to Carl Berthel, P. F. C., at an informal ceremony in the chapel of Fort Winfield Scott, California.

Miss Twesten is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Twesten, 306 Knowles avenue. She has, for nearly three years, been employed by the Daly City Water department in their office at the city hall. Miss Twesten has resided in Daly City almost all her life, having attended Woodrow Wilson and Vista Grande grammar schools, Jefferson Union high school, and later San Mateo junior college.

Barthel has been in the service of the Army for the past six months. A San Francisco man, Private First Class Barthel is stationed at Fort Scott in the military police division.

WAAC'S Issue Appeal For Women Mechanics

Attention women radio operators and mechanics!

The WAAC's (Women's Army Auxiliary Corps) have issued an urgent call for recruits who have had experience as radio operators, radio mechanics, teletypists and PBX operators. Qualified amateur operators and technicians are also acceptable.

This is a splendid opportunity to join the WAAC's and at the same time to be in the nation's war effort. Only qualifications are that the applicant be from 21 to 44 inclusive, in good health, and an American citizen.

Don't delay... this quota must be filled at once. Visit or write the WAAC Recruiting headquarters, 444 Market street in San Francisco.

One nice thing about this group riding business is that a lot of us are finding out that grouchy neighbor next door isn't such a bad guy after all.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NEWS

so provided a large carton of colored strings of popcorn to help decorate the soldiers' trees. This group from different grades are as follows: Don Grimes, Anita Ritchhart, Ada Johnson, Elsie Garibaldi, Mabel Garibaldi, Betty Zraggen and Robert Zraggen. Rose Brandt, eighth grade, has made and sold little novelty dolls and has turned the proceeds over to the Red Cross as her contribution toward filling of soldier kits. "The Raft," a story which tells of the harrowing experiences of three courageous seamen who were adrift on the Pacific for 34 days was recently read to the seventh and eighth graders. The story stimulated the purchase of War stamps.

Aside from the many patriotic activities, work in the classrooms goes on as usual. The eighth grade social science class was very fortunate recently in having a member of an old California pioneer family tell of early day experiences of her father who was a '49er. Several interesting letters written to the pioneer's family in New Jersey, telling of his trip from New York to San Francisco via Panama, were read to the class. These letters contained valuable information which was much more impressive when read from letters yellow with age than from a history book.

During an oral expression period in their English class, seventh graders presented some original monologues. Jack Ghio's was voted most amusing. He dramatized a town gossip.

Third and fourth graders have decorated their classrooms with pictures that illustrate stories they have written about Thanksgiving Day in the early colonial times.

Second graders are learning how to write letters and address envelopes during their study of the Post Office.

Seventh and eighth grade students are now acquiring the knowledge and skills needed by first aiders. Groups practicing artificial respiration or learning to bandage each other are a common sight during first aid period.

No need to forget our important nutrition program even when planning Thanksgiving dinner. Feasts of this kind may be well-balanced, nutritious and healthful. Meet the program requirements by bolstering your meal with one or more of the dishes below:

California Poinsettia Salad
3 oranges
6 tablespoons cream cheese
2 red pimientos
Paprika

Peel clean-skinned oranges and separate into segments. Make cheese into 6 balls and sprinkle with paprika. Cut pimientos into long, narrow strips. Place a cheese ball in center of each salad plate and arrange orange segments radiating out from it like the petals of a flower. Place strips of pimiento between orange segments. Pour favorite dressing over all. Serves 6.

Chicken Croquettes
3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons minced green pepper
2 tablespoons minced pimiento
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup chicken stock
1 1/2 cups chopped cooked chicken
Sifted bread or cracker crumbs
1 egg, beaten with 3 tablespoons milk and dash of salt

Combine quick-cooking tapioca, salt, paprika, green pepper, pimiento, milk, and stock in top of double boiler. Place over rapidly boiling water and cook 8 to 10 minutes after water boils again, stirring frequently. Add chicken and mix thoroughly. Chill. Shape into cones. Roll in crumbs, dip in egg, then in crumbs. Fry in deep fat (390° F.) 1 minute. Drain. Serve with cranberry jelly. Makes 8. Croquettes are a popular way of stretching left-over chicken, turkey or other meat. You'll always be sure of croquettes that are shapely, moist and tasty if you use quick-cooking tapioca as a binder.

Lima Beans Creole
1 box quick-frozen lima beans
2 cups boiling water, salted
1/2 cup diced onion
1/2 cup diced green pepper
1/2 cup butter
1 1/2 cups canned tomatoes
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1/2 teaspoon sugar

Drop frozen lima beans into briskly boiling salted water, bring again to a boil, and boil 16 to 18 minutes, or until just tender. Drain. Sauté onion and green pepper in butter until tender. Add lima beans, tomatoes, and seasonings, and simmer 3 to 5 minutes. Serves 4 to 6. You can always have plenty of variety in holiday menus if you choose quick-frozen vegetables. They're easy for the chief cook to serve, too, for all grubby tasks of cleaning and preparing were done before quick-freezing sealed in their full complement of vitamins and minerals.

Lemon Rennet-Custard
1 package lemon rennet powder
1 pint milk, not canned
Corn candy kernels. Raisins
Make rennet-custard according to directions on package. Top with a "star" shaped by 5 kernels of corn candy centered with raisin.

Hawaiian Spice Cup
Some like it hot and some like it cold, but almost everyone likes the sun-ripened, tangy flavor of canned unsweetened pineapple juice from Hawaii. For real palate appeal as well as health-promoting vitamins B₁ and C, serve Hawaiian spice cup with your Thanksgiving turkey.

The recipe goes like this: Tie the following spices in a small piece of cheesecloth — one inch of stick cinnamon, three whole cloves, one-quarter teaspoon ground allspice, and one-quarter teaspoon grated nutmeg. Add them to one quart canned unsweetened Hawaiian pineapple juice. Bring to a boil, but do not boil. Stir in a pinch of salt. Serve at once in punch cups. Yield: Six servings.

Holiday Brew
6 cups double strength decaffeinated coffee
1/2 cup whipping cream, whipped
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Pour hot coffee into cups. Top with a spoonful of whipped cream into which the spices have been folded. Sugar may be served with the coffee. It's considerate to offer a decaffeinated holiday brew so there will be no uneasy pillow tossing later on. Remember that decaffeinated coffee made by the percolator method needs slightly longer brewing to bring out its full flavor.
